Pre-K News

Pre-K students have been spending a lot of time in their outdoor classroom. Here a student enjoys a "book look" surrounded by nature.

8th Grade News

The 8th Grade social studies had a Zoom visit from Morten Kutchera of Bergen, Norway. Morten is a professional flintknapper, educator, and Stone-Age expert. He gave a flintknapping demonstration from the Norwegian fjords for the 8th-grade unit about hunter-gathers from the Paleolithic. Although there were some minor technical difficulties initially, the presentation was amazing and provided the students with some practical insights into stone tool-making from a world-class expert.

Rockport Post and Beam came with their crane today to raise our pavilion structure!

A HUGE thank you to Evan and his crew for facilitating this project. We look forward to having an open air structure to learn beneath all year round! Many thanks to SO many other contributors as well. A more comprehensive list of thank you's coming soon!
